

Mumbai: Free Treatment At Lilavati, Sir HN Hospital for Pahalgam Terror Attack Victims

Several hospitals in Mumbai, including Lilavati Hospital and the Reliance Foundation's Sir HN Hospital, have offered to provide free treatment to those hurt in the Pahalgam Terror Attack on Tuesday, April 22. The incident that took place in Baisaran, a few kilometers away from Pahalgam, Kashmir, sent shockwaves across the nation.

While many people received serious injuries during the open-fire in Baisaran, a total of six people among those who died were from Maharashtra. On Thursday, Mukesh Ambani, chairman of Reliance Industries Limited, announced that Sir HN Hospital will treat all the injured at no cost. He offered his condolences to the families of those who died and wished a speedy recovery for those hurt. He said, "Everyone in the Reliance family is mourning the loss of innocent lives in this terrible attack. Terrorism is the enemy of humanity, and we must not allow it to grow in any way. We fully support our Prime Minister, the Indian government, and the whole nation in the fight against terrorism." No More Ghatkopar, Kurla Traffic

Lilavati Hospital also expressed sorrow for the victims, their families, and all others affected by the violent attack. The hospital said it would provide free medical treatment to those who were injured and to families who lost a loved one. They also expressed their support for the Indian Army, the government, and the public during this difficult time.

Rajesh Mehta, a permanent trustee of Lilavati Hospital, said, "In this hour of national grief, we stand in unwavering solidarity with our fellow citizens, the Indian Army, and the Government of India. As part of our commitment to serve humanity, we are offering free medical treatment to those injured in this attack and to individuals who have lost a family member". "We at Lilavati Hospital and Research Centre are deeply shocked and saddened by the heinous terrorist attack in Pahalgam, Kashmir. On behalf of our entire board, under the guidance of Charuben Mehta (Founder, Permanent Trustee for Life, Lilavati Hospital), I extend our heartfelt condolences to the victims and their families," he added.
